Muharram celebration

Report

NPR College of Engineering & Technology celebrated Muharram on August 8, 2022, promoting cultural understanding and religious tolerance. The event began with Quranic recitations and insightful lectures on the significance of Muharram. Attendees engaged in discussions highlighting the values of peace, unity, and empathy. A tribute to the martyrdom of Imam Hussain (RA) was paid through poetry and reflections. A symbolic procession symbolizing Imam Hussain's journey was organized, invoking contemplation among participants. Prayers were offered for global harmony and understanding. The event reaffirmed the college's commitment to promoting diversity and mutual respect. Through dialogue and reflection, students and staff enriched the campus environment with shared values. Muharram functions fostered communal bonding and strengthened ties within the college community. Overall, the event served as a platform for promoting compassion and humanity among all attendees.

Ramzan celebration

Report

The Ramzan celebration at our engineering college on March 22, 2023, aimed to promote inclusivity and support for Muslim students. Activities included daily iftar gatherings, prayer facilities, educational sessions, and community service initiatives. The event emphasized inclusivity by accommodating religious needs and fostering respect among students. It facilitated cultural exchange and dialogue, promoting mutual appreciation. Students engaged in spiritual reflection through prayer sessions and educational activities. The celebration strengthened bonds and built a sense of community within the college. It had a positive impact on campus by promoting inclusivity and cultural understanding. The event created a welcoming and supportive environment for all students. Through various activities, it reflected the values of diversity upheld by our institution. In summary, the Ramzan celebration fostered inclusivity, community building, and cultural exchange at our engineering college.

Report

The Onam festival was celebrated on September 7, 2022, by 10 a.m. at our college campus. The traditional harvest festival of Kerala is celebrated with enthusiasm and fervor. Festivities included flower decorations, cultural performances, and a traditional Onam feast called "Onasadya." Students and faculty dressed in vibrant traditional attire to mark the occasion. The campus was adorned with intricate flower rangolis, adding to the festive ambiance. Various cultural programs, such as dance, music, and drama, showcased Kerala's rich cultural heritage. The Onasadya feast featured a delectable spread of vegetarian dishes served on banana leaves. The celebration fostered a sense of unity and cultural pride among students from Kerala and other regions. It provided an opportunity for students to learn about and appreciate Kerala's culture and traditions. The event highlighted the college's commitment to embracing diversity and promoting cultural understanding. In conclusion, the Onam celebration was a joyous occasion that brought together students and faculty to celebrate Kerala's vibrant culture and heritage.

Muharram celebration

Report

NPR College of Engineering & Technology celebrated Muharram on August 8, 2022, promoting cultural understanding and religious tolerance. The event began with Quranic recitations and insightful lectures on the significance of Muharram. Attendees engaged in discussions highlighting the values of peace, unity, and empathy. A tribute to the martyrdom of Imam Hussain (RA) was paid through poetry and reflections. A symbolic procession symbolizing Imam Hussain's journey was organized, invoking contemplation among participants. Prayers were offered for global harmony and understanding. The event reaffirmed the college's commitment to promoting diversity and mutual respect. Through dialogue and reflection, students and staff enriched the campus environment with shared values. Muharram functions fostered communal bonding and strengthened ties within the college community. Overall, the event served as a platform for promoting compassion and humanity among all attendees.
