DR. A. PANDIKUMAR, SENIOR SCIENTIST, CECRI

Dr. Alagarsamy Pandikumar obtained his Ph.D in Chemistry (2014) from the Madurai Kamaraj University, Madurai. His doctoral research focused on synthesis, characterization of plasmonic nanocomposite materials and its application of photo-physical/chemical properties in photocatalysis, photoelectrocatalysis and dye-sensitized solar cells. He successfully completed his post-doctoral fellowship tenure (2014-2016) at the University of Malaya, Malaysia under high Impact Research Grant . During post-doctoral research, he has developed several graphene based metal, metal oxide, polymeric nanocomposites for electrochemical sensors and dye-sensitized solar cells applications. He was appointed as a Research Assistant Professor in Department of Chemistry& Research Institute at SRM University, India. His current research involves development of novel materials with graphene, graphitic carbon nitrides, transition metal chalcogenides in combination to metals, metal oxides, polymers and carbon nanotubes for photocatalysis, photoelectrocatalysis dye-sensitized solar cells and electrochemical sensor

Applications. His results outcomes were documented in 145 in peer reviewed journals including 12 review articles; Among them Five of the key articles have been cited more than 50 times and also have 1350 citations with the h-index of 21. On other side, he served as Guest Editor for a special issue in Applied Surface Science Advances, Materials Focus journal and edited 18 books for RSC, Elsevier, Wiley, Jenny Stanford, and TransTech Publishers.

Qualifications : Ph.D. in Chemistry, Madurai Kamaraj University (2014)

Professional Experience:

April 2008 – Till Date: QHS Fellow, Scientist, Senior Scientist, Principal Scientist at CSIR-CECRI

Current research activities includes: Nanomaterials synthesis for sensing and catalytic applications, Dye sensitized and quantum dot sensitized solar cells (DSSC/QDSSC), Metal ion sensors, effluent treatments etc.

March 2006 – April 2008: Postdoctoral Fellow, University of Massachusetts, Amherst, MA, USA
Involved in synthesis and surface modification of semiconductors, metal nanoparticles and nanocomposite materials - Development of novel materials for bio-sensors and bio-markers,
Advisor: Prof. Vincent M. Rotello.

August 2000 – February 2006: Graduate Student at Wayne State University, Detroit, MI, USA
"Synthesis and characterization of nanostructured transition metal arsenates and their transformation to transition metal arsenides", Advisor/Guide's Name: Prof. Stephanie L. Brock.

July 98 – July 00: Project Assistant, PD Division, National Chemical Laboratory (NCL), Pune, India.
Synthesized polycarbonates via solid state polymerization techniques using novel bis-phenol type monomers. Participated in scale-up (pilot-plant) of the solid state polymerization process and many of these processes are patented.

March 98 – June 98: Assistant Manager, R & D Division, Bakelite Hylam Ltd, Hyderabad, India.
Synthesized new phenolic resins for brake linings. Identified and characterized a multivalent phenol source as part of a cost reduction program.

June 97 – Feb 98: Research Assistant, R & D Division, Dorf Ketal Chemicals, Bombay, India.
Played a key role in many different areas including: synthesis and process modification of additives, method development (physical and chemical) for the analysis of additives and quality check of both raw materials and finished products.

DR. S. RAJARAM, PROFESSOR OF ENGLISH,

THIAGARAJAR COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING, MADURAI

Dr.Solaimalai Rajaram, Professor of English, has been handling Technical English, Professional Communication and Business English to B.E /B.Tech and MCA for the last 32 years at Thiagarajar

College of Engineering, Madurai, since 1990. He has also taken courses in Professional Authoring for the students of ME Degree Courses. Serving as the Coordinator of Business English Certificate, he has been organizing BEC Training Programs and training students for the International Certification in Business English, offered by Cambridge University, for the last 15 years.

As a Freelance HR Trainer and Youth Motivator he has been delivering Invited Talks and conducting One-day Programs on Personality Development, Effective Communication Skills, Life Skills Development, Research Paper Writing for students. He has also conducted Faculty Development Programs on "Effective Teaching and Inspired Learning". With his rich exposure to professional proofreading of hundreds of journal articles and many Doctoral theses of the engineering community over the last 15 years, he has conducted some 15 Programs on Research Paper Writing for the academic research community at and outside Thiagarajar College of Engineering, Madurai.

It is noteworthy to mention that he also coordinated the training program "TOEIC" (Test of English for International Communication) for undergraduate students of Japan and trained them at Thiagarajar College of Engineering, Madurai during 2008 and 2009. It is remarkable that he has delivered 5 Video Lectures (Bilingual in Tamil and English), especially for Vernacular Medium and Lateral Entry Students, on Basic Grammar for Technical English. These TEQIP Video lectures have been recognized as Tamil Nādu Government Video Lectures and sent to all Engineering Colleges across Tamil Nadu by the Commissionerate of Technical Education, Tamil Nadu. Those videos (Technical English Basic Grammar) are available on YouTube. For his video lectures, He has a dedicated channel on YouTube where you can stream his video lectures. Driven by his passion for the use of multimedia tools in ELT, he has published a few papers on computer-assisted language learning. Besides, he is interested in exploring, examining online resources, and experimenting with them for promoting the individualized learning process of students.

He has also developed some Computer-Assisted Learning Tools for ELT and has been preparing Course Materials for Spoken English Practice. In particular, he has created an exclusive blog, by capitalizing on the interest of the techno-cultured students. His course materials, video lectures, listening assessments, and the links of useful online treasures have been shared through this blog. More than 80,000 English language learners from around the world have already visited this blog to improve their English language skills and general aptitude for higher education and employment.

Date: 21.09.2023

Session: F.N
Time: 9.35 A.M

Visited Place:

Keeladi Museum,
Keeladi Village,
Sivagangal (Dt)

1st year B.E./B.Tech. Students at Keeladi Museum

As a part of students' Induction Programme, the students were taken to Keeladi Museum, which is located at the district of Sivagangai. This museum displays the majority of over 11,000 artifacts that have been unearthed at Keeladi by the TNSDA since it took over the excavations in 8 phases. Antiquities found by the Archaeological Survey are well preserved and exhibited primarily to interpret the legacy of the civilization. Keeladi excavations clearly suggest that the second urbanization too happened in Tamil Nadu in 6th century BCE. This visit helped the students to know Tamil culture/ tradition and the life style of ancient tamilians. This day fulfilled the objective of Visit to Local Area introduced by AICTE as a part of Induction Programme for the students of first year B.E/ B.Tech.

No of Participants:

Outcome:

1. Students were able to understand the life style of ancient tamilians.
2. Students realized the importance of civilization.

Dr. B. Ramesh Babu, Dean, CECRI acted as the Chief Guest and he addressed the students on Recycling of Waste from Electrical and Electronic Equipment. He said that the most electronic waste is sent to landfills or incinerated, which releases materials such as lead, mercury, or cadmium into the soil, groundwater, and atmosphere, thus having a negative impact on the environment. Many materials used in computer hardware can be recovered by recycling for use in future production. He further informed the students that the waste electrical equipment can be recovered for reuse or recycled either onsite or off site and the waste equipment can be rendered less hazardous through a chemical, physical or thermal treatment process. This session fulfilled the objective of Lectures by Eminent People introduced by AICTE as a part of Induction Programme for the students of first year B.E/B.Tech.

Dr. S. Sivailango, AP/ Chemistry, TCE acted as the Chief Guest and he addressed the students on Inevitable of fluoride in water. He said that Fluoride helps to rebuild and strengthen the tooth's surface, or enamel. Water fluoridation prevents tooth decay by providing frequent and consistent contact with low levels of fluoride and by keeping the tooth strong and solid, fluoride stops cavities from forming and can even rebuild the tooth's surface. He also informed the students that one of the best, most effective ways to reduce fluoride in drinking water is to choose a reverse osmosis water filter. These systems are generally installed under your kitchen sink, where they can reduce up to a broad range of potential contaminants in your water.
